Arapahoe Square

Famously known as Five Points, Arapahoe Square is rooted in history and is the second home to jazz greats like Louis Armstrong and Miles Davis, who often performed here. Today, Arapahoe Square lives in a finely tuned neighborhood of up-and-coming restaurants, attractions, and downtown institutions like Coors Field, Union Station, and the Denver Performing Arts Complex. Just three blocks from the Light Rail station and minutes from LoDo, LoHi, and RiNo let Arapahoe Square be the kind of home base that helps you get your fill of Denver adventure.

Arapahoe Square is situated between the high-rise development of the Commercial Core and the lower-density neighborhoods of Curtis Park and Five Points. The southwestern edge of the district is 20th Street, which is heavily traveled by automobiles going towards I-25 and Coors Field. The northern edge of the district is Park Avenue. It transitions to Ballpark to the west and Uptown to the south. Broadway bisects the district creating the triangular building sites where the two grids intersect. The attractive zoning provides for upside & future disposition options.
